Registered Angus, Sim-Angus, and Simmental Cattle

Jeremy, Erin, and William VanBoening

Striving for genetic excellence, structural soundness, and longevity!

What an exciting time to be in the cattle business! Historic high prices and forecasts that project these prices to continue for some time make it a great time to invest in genetics that will maximize your operations potential. Over the last several years our operation has moved from a commercial cow calf herd to a registered herd of Angus, Simmental, and Sim-Angus cattle. We built our base of registered cows off females that exhibited the structural soundness, udder quality, and exceptional disposition needed for longevity. From that base we continue to make bulls that will sire offspring with added growth and females that will function for years to come. Our offering of bulls for will take place through Big Iron Livestock online and with an end date of March 10th 2026. In the future we will also offer registered heifers for sale annually. In addition we will offer packages of embryos. We would be honored for you to view the bulls at the grower yard located across the road from our home or approximately 3 miles North of Orleans, NE, right along highway 136. Additionally bulls can be viewed online at www.wjecattle.com or on our youtube channel WJE Cattle with updates coming on our facebook page.

- ◆ Bulls available online via bigiron livestock and private treaty sales.

This guy will add pounds to his calf crop in a produce females that will have outstanding milk. Recommend for cows.

How we feed our bulls.

Our bulls are raised on a high roughage mixed ration that allows for a steady moderate growth. We believe in moderate growth curve on bulls as our bulls will maintain their condition during the breeding season without any supplementation. In addition these bulls will develop the necessary bone, joint, and feet to carry them for years to come.
